Sustaining Momentum

Wraparound is a response to the growing need across our state to address non-academic barriers to student learning. This school-based approach promotes students' academic success by developing, securing, and coordinating services and supports through a centralized program, service, policy or center. Schools can explore, expand or coordinate non-academic supports to students with the goal of increasing academic outcomes and student engagement.

Whole Child Support Trainings

Whole Child Support Trainings/Workshops

While Metro RESA works with school district personnel to accommodate most of the professional learning and training needs within school districts, we also offer a small number of trainings through our agency which can accommodate educators across districts. These trainings are particularly helpful for districts who have only a few schools requesting various content, and do not have enough to conduct a full training within the district or for schools who were unable to attend a training offered in district due to scheduling conflicts. We also welcome individual participants who are looking to build their own knowledge, or school teams looking to build capacity.

Trainings are offered either virtual or in-person, please note the location to determine the delivery mode. To register for any of the trainings below, visit this website. Registration closes one-week prior to the training and those registered will receive training details (materials, virtual meeting link if applicable, etc.) at least 48 hours prior to the event.
